DIXON KNOCKS SKELLY OUT.

Eight Rounds Settles the Second Great Contest in the Series of New Orleans Prize Fights, and George Dixon is Still the Champion Bantam Weight Pugilist of the World—Details of the Battle.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7.—George Dixon, the champion bantamweight pugilist, and Jack Skelly, of Brooklyn, were greeted by more than 5,000 persons at the Olympic club last night. There were about 400 negroes present. The fight was for the championship and $12,500, and was easily won by Dixon. Skelly's seconds were Joe Choyinski and Jimmy Carroll, while Jack McAuliffe held the bottle. Dixon's handlers were Tom O'Rourke, Jack Havlin, of Boston, and Jimmy Dougherty, also of Boston. Professor Duffy was referee, as usual. Following is the fight by rounds.

GEORGE DIXON

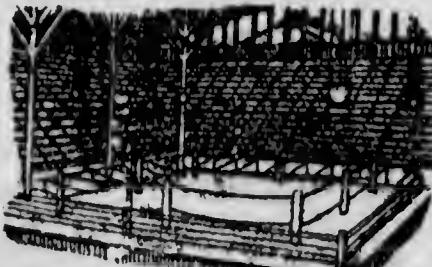

First round—The men had no sooner been called to the center than Skelly let go left for Dixon's head. The coon dodged cleverly and smashed Skelly on the face with the left. The boys then hit each other lightly on the face with lefts, and each man made a pretty play at stopping the right. Dixon kept away after this and then made a rush and clinch. Skelly looked confident and the crowd yelled.

JACK SKELLY.

Second round—Skelly, who stood two inches over the nigger, again took the initiative, but missed with the left and then Dixon got in two left-handers on the body. Another left of Dixon's caught Skelly hard in the stomach. Dixon made two rushes, landed his left in each on the stomach. Skelly missed a right-handed swing for the jaw in the second.

Third round—Skelly came up more wary in this round, but was promptly knocked down by a left-hander on the ear and the colored population howled. Dixon got in three lefts on the stomach and missed two swings for the head. Skelly was slow as you please and could not land three cracks he made.

THE OLYMPIC CLUB'S ARENA.

Fourth round—Skelly was scared and let Dixon elinch him, until the colored man caught his left on Skelly's ribs. Skelly now made a rush, and Dixon slipped, but on recovering before Skelly had time to recover, Dixon turned around and slapped Skelly on the face with the left. Dixon went in with the left and landed three on the stomach. Skelly seemed dead and went to his corner in the way of a groggy man.

and Skelly's face was bloody from the eyes down. Skelly was quite tired, but he stood the gaff.

Sixth round—Dixon forced Dixon over to his corner, but could not land a blow. Dixon hit him with left twice under the right arm, once on the nose, making more blood flow, and again the left under the right arm. Dixon rushed with the evident intention of finishing his man and landed left and right on the face. He repeated this twice, and Skelly could not make an attempt of the weakest kind.

Seventh round—Dixon led left for face and Skelly stopped it nicely. Dixon got in a stiff right-hander on the stomach and again on the face; once more on the neck, and for the fourth time on the body under the right arm. All blows hard. Then Dixon went at him with both hands and hit him all over the ring. One left-hander on the jaw floored Skelly, who was bleeding freely.

Eighth round—Skelly came up groggy again. Dixon was as fresh as a daisy. It looked as though the end of the fight was near and the crowd began to leave the building. Dixon rushed and smashed Skelly all over the ring. At close quarters Dixon hit him with the right on the jaw and the crowd yelled "fool." But there was no foul, as each had an armful. Skelly went down under the force of the crack, but got up bloody but plucky. Dixon ran at him again and thumped with right and left on the ropes. Skelly was so awfully played out that he went down again on his knees. He fell over on his face and made an effort to get up, but it was no use, and he was counted out.

The poor boy had not been a half-sized competitor for the colored champion. The Brooklynite meant well enough and showed goo' heart, but, unfortunately, he does not know how to fight a good man. Dixon was pretty well applauded when the decision was given.

The occupants of the colored gallery made a great noise and kept it up until R. M. Frank, the official timekeeper of the club, called for order and announced that Charlie Mitchell had sent a challenge to the winner of the Sullivan-Corbett fight for $10,000 a side within ten weeks if he were allowed $1,000 for expenses.

Mr. Frank also stated that Johnny Murphy, of Boston, wanted to fight Dixon, as also did Johnny Griffin. Murphy asserted that he could fight at 117 pounds, but a good many persons who know the braintrust boy doubt that he can get lower than 120. He is pitted against Jimmy Lynch, of New York, at 122 pounds, the fight to take place at Coney Island on the 26th inst. After it was all over the New Orleans citizens gave all credit to Dixon for the work he had done, but they plainly did not like to do it.

ECHOES OF THE HOMESTEAD STRIKE.

Frick's Would-Be Assassin Indicted by the Grand Jury.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 7.—Upon the opening of the September term of court here Judge Kennedy laid particular stress on the Homestead riot cases. He said any person who was active in countenancing or supporting the unlawful acts was a party to the riot, and all others were equally guilty who in any way encouraged the rioters. It was the duty of the jury to enforce the laws, uninfluenced by fear or sympathy.

The grand jury yesterday found true bills against Alexander Bergman, the anarchist who attempted to assassinate H. C. Frick. Six indictments were returned, three for entering a building with felonious intent and one each for felonious shooting, aggravated assault and battery and carrying concealed weapons. If convicted upon all the counts and given the extreme penalty of the law, he will undergo an imprisonment of thirty years.

Affairs at Homestead.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Sept. 7.—The statement that one hundred of the Slav laborers had returned to work in the Homestead mill yesterday is denied by both the mill officials and the strikers.

Hugh O'Donnell, Hugh Ross and Burgess McLuckie have dropped out of sight. No person can be found in Homestead who seems to know where the trio of leaders are. The absence of so many of the leading members of the advisory board at this time is being commented upon. Were those men on the ground, the rank and file of the locked-out workers would be much better pleased.

It is becoming more apparent every day that the majority of the locked-out men are becoming restive. During the past week they have shown that they are not a little exercised over the manner in which things are being conducted behind the high fence surrounding the Carnegie steel plant.

Police Protection Withdrawn.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 7.—All of the police and detective force, who for many weeks have been doing guard duty in the vicinity of the Carnegie Union mills at Twenty-ninth and Thirty-third street has been withdrawn. Work is, to all appearances, progressing satisfactorily and the mill management do not yet fear any trouble. The claim is made that both in quality and quantity, the output is equal to that of any time prior to the strike.

Big Strike Averted.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 7.—Chancellor McGill's order dissolving the coal combine is believed to have averted a big strike arising out of two discharged engineers whom the Reading's president laid off. When the order brought the Reading's control of the Jersey Central to an end, the officials of the latter re-employed them and the difficulty was ended.

Prize Fight Arranged.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—The California Athletic club has matched George Siddons, of New York, and Solly Smith, of Los Angeles, to fight at 110 1-2 pounds or under, for a purse of $2,000 Sept. 20.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

Not a Case of Cholera in the United States.

ALL SAFELY QUARANTINED.

The Plague at Lower Bay is Expected to Run Its Course and Every Effort is Being Made to Confine It to That Locality Alone—The Disease Abroad.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The situation, while scarcely changed as to the battle with the scourge is materially altered in that the sanitary conditions of the floating cities, as each of the ships may be called, promises to be a problem far in excess of the actual pestilence itself. The fact of the deaths and the new cases from day to day is a matter of proportion to be expected as the disease runs its course.

The sanitary conditions on the detained ships for both cabin and steerage passengers is one that calls for the most careful thought on the part of Dr. Jenkins and the city and state health authorities, who are giving him the most complete support. The necessity for the detention of so large a number of people within such circumscribed limits for the period indicated in his reply yesterday expressing intention to comply with the full terms of the treasury circular drawn at the suggestion of the president is praiseworthy in its recognition of the supreme interest and watchful care of the national executive, but its results to the souls thus detained can not be overestimated.

From marine point of view another danger threatens, the pilots bringing in detained vessels being as securely detained as the voyagers themselves. It is scarcely to be doubted that as soon as the health officer finds that the New York pilot commissioners have their available men locked up in the detained ships he will see to it that the treasury department makes a special rule exempting from quarantine regulations the pilots, or there will be none of them off shore to bring in the incoming ships, with knowledge of his wishes and the crowded road at the boarding station. If this action is not taken it is easy to be seen that the narrows will soon be choked and local commerce, as well as that from across the water, be barred from passage.

The Hamburg-American company, at present the principal sufferers from the plague-infested ports, has a number of schemes for the amelioration of the unfortunate passengers in its charge, and Dr. Jenkins is now giving several of these consideration. The particular scheme to be adopted is yet to be decided upon between the health officer and Agent Cortis.

The condition of affairs in the infected roadstead at lower quarantine is shown by Dr. Jenkins' report on coming from below last night as follows:

NORMANIA—New cases. Heinrich Freitag, aged twenty years; Franz Baumback, aged twenty-four; Rudolf Encls, aged twenty-one years. All of the crew.

RUNGIA—Jacob Gruber, aged fifty-four years; Johannas Jablonniker, aged twenty-six years, and Kaethe Ziffert, aged twenty-six years, all passengers.

Hoffman Island—Gertrude Scharn, aged eight years. She died on removal to Swinburne Island.

No new developments on the Moravia. Two are sick on Hoffman Island and were about to be removed when Dr. Jenkins left.

Swinburne Island—Nurse Adelaide Moores very sick.

At midnight last night, Reporter Delaney, of the New York Herald, was arrested on board the quarantine tug Manhattan by Captain McKenzie, for concealing himself on board and accompanying the Manhattan to the various liners. He was taken to Stapleton and locked up for the night.

The situations on the detained ships is similar as to conditions among the passengers in good health whether confined on board at the upper station or in the infected roadstead south of the hospital islands in the lower bay. It had originally been Mr. Jenkins' intention, should no cases of sickness develop, to release La Bourgogne Thursday night, Sept. 8, and he has not yet determined in view of his official acquiescence with the treasury circular whether he will detain the French liner beyond his original intention or not.

In view of his concert of action with the president it is probable that all the ships having emigrants from infected ports which to an extent may be said to include the British Isles, will be detained for the full twenty days unless earlier relief upon special investigation by representatives of the treasury department.

AN UNDERSTANDING REACHED.

Dr. Jenkins' Reply to the President's Recent Proclamation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The following is a copy of Dr. Jenkins' reply to the president's circular:

QUARANTINE, Sept. 6.
To the Secretary of the Treasury, Washington:

DEAR SIR—By an order issued Sept. 1 last, signed by the supervising surgeon general of the United States Marine hospital service, Charles Foster, secretary of the treasury, and approved by the president, it was ordered that no vessel from any foreign port carrying immigrants shall be permitted to enter at any port of the United States until said vessel shall have undergone a quarantine of twenty days. And of such greater number of days as may be fixed in each special case by the state authorities.

This circular to take effect in case of vessels afloat at this date, which will be made the subject of special consideration upon due application to the department. This order is directed to collectors of customs, medical officers of the marine hospital service, foreign steamship companies, state and local boards of health. This order I consider establishing an unvarying rule covering the first twenty days after vessels carrying immigrants have reached this port, whether such vessel has come from an infected port or otherwise, viz.: A quarantine detention of twenty days in all cases of vessels carrying immigrants.

In view of the misconception in certain quarters of my position it is appropriate for me to say that while I have expressed the opinion that the order in its breadth as made reaches beyond the authority of the federal officials, I shall, of course, take no action which would involve a less strict quarantine than that ordered by the president. The rule will be enforced by me strictly. The only exception in the order is as to vessels afloat Sept. 1, and as to those it is provided they will be made the subject of special consideration upon due application to the department.

I understand from this that the treasury department would make the necessary investigation, and will, in cases deemed by it proper, relieve the quarantine officers of the twenty-day rule established by the president. I desire to say that in obedience to the president's order the quarantine officers will not assume authority to pass any vessels coming into the port until twenty days' detention at quarantine has been had, except in cases where the president's order shall be suspended by the treasury department.

WILLIAM T. JENKINS,
Health Officer, Port of New York.

NO CHOLERA IN THE UNITED STATES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Not a single case of cholera exists today within the boundaries of the United States as far as government officials at Washington are advised, and "if our efforts avail," said acting Secretary Spaulding, "not a case will occur in our borders."

Every possible effort is being put forth, and every suggestion receives at least respectful consideration.

Among the cholera dispatches received at the treasury department yesterday are the following forwarded by Secretary Foster, of the state department: "Our consul at Bremen cables: 'Two deaths, child and mother, supposed cholera. Doctor Koch here to ascertain.'"

Also the following from the same consul: "Professor Koch states excellent sanitary condition in Bremen and Bremervorstadt. Single transited cases may occur. No danger of epidemic cholera."

SCOURGE ABROAD.

Slightly Abating in Hamburg—At Other Foreign Ports.

HAMBURG, Sept. 7.—The number of new cases yesterday has been 938, of deaths 317. This is a decrease of thirty-one in the number of new cases, and of thirty-six in the number of deaths. As compared with the figures of one week ago, when the plague was supposed to be at its worst, however, the lists of yesterday's cases and deaths are not encouraging. The increase of fresh cases yesterday over those of last Tuesday is 138, the increase of deaths seventeen.

SOLDIERS SICK.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—The cholera has broken out in Limoges and Portiers. In the latter city several soldiers of the garrison are reported to be ill. In commenting on the war department's advertisement for a tender to supply the troops with river water during the maneuvers several dealers call Minister de Freycinet to command the orders for the maneuvers.

STEAMER RETAINED.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The steamer Oldham, from Hamburg, has been quarantined at Grimsby, a cabin passenger on the vessel having been found suffering from cholera. The company owning the steamer have concluded to book no more steerage of any class from Hamburg.

ONE CASE AT DORT, HOLLAND.

THE HAGUE, Sept. 7.—A workman has died of cholera at Dordrecht, a town of South Holland, ten miles from Rotterdam. This is the first case at Dordrecht, otherwise known as Dort.

SAM SMALL SHOT.

An Attempt Made to Assassinate the Noted Evangelist.

VINCENNES, Ind., Sept. 7.—Rev. Sam Small, the noted temperance evangelist, who has been in this neighborhood for several days, expounding the doctrines of prohibition, was shot in the thigh Monday night, at Hazleton, fifteen miles south of this city. The Prohibitionists have been holding meetings at Hazleton, and as Small was to speak in Vincennes on Sunday, he was invited to Hazleton to speak Monday night.

At the evening session a crowd of toughs from White River bottoms rushed in and broke up the meeting, and it was found impossible to continue the services. The meeting was adjourned. Rev. Small went to his hotel and was about to retire when some scoundrel fired his revolver through the window, hitting the evangelist in the thigh, producing a serious wound. The attempt is being made to arrest the perpetrators. Mr. Small is now resting easily.

HANDSOME DWELLING HOUSE BURNED.

ELLATON, Md., Sept. 7.—The handsome dwelling house owned by Colonel T. Egerton Hogg, and known as Cecil Manor, in Cecil county, near Port Deposit, was totally destroyed by fire last night. The mansion was built about two years ago, at a cost of about $100,000, and was said to be the finest residence in the state. The building was 45 by 75 feet and was six and a half stories high. It contained forty-two rooms. The origin of the fire is a mystery, but is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. The house was not occupied at the time. It is fully insured.

ONE MORE BODY RECOVERED.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Sept. 7.—The body of the son of Captain Myers, lost in the wreck of the Western Reserve, was found by the life saving crew yesterday.

MURDER IN CHICAGO.

Triple Tragedy Over the Closing of Garfield Park.

TWO MEN DEAD AND ONE DYING.

MILLIONAIRE TIRFMAN RESISTS ARREST WITH A REVOLVER, AND SHOOTS TWO POLICEMEN, KILLING ONE INSTANTLY AND MORTALLY WOUNDING THE OTHER—THE MURDERER THEN SHOT DOWN BY A THIRD OFFICER.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Racing at Garfield park yesterday terminated in a dreadful tragedy. Three men's lives paid the forfeit of the effort to suppress racing on the track. James Brown, the millionaire horseman, and Officer John Powell were killed, and Officer Henry McDowell was mortally wounded, and the surgeons say he can not recover. The triple shooting was a sequel to the daily raid on the race track. During the previous days' raids by the police, Brown is alleged to have said that he would kill any policeman who attempted to arrest him.

Yesterday afternoon, while the raid was in progress, a crowd of ruffians gathered on West Fortieth street just outside the race course and began to jeer the police. Half a dozen times they were driven away, and finally in some way the police were attracted to James Brown, who was stationed on the roof of the stables at the extreme south end of the course.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For Kentucky—fair, warmer by Thursday; east to south winds.

If Judge Holt, the Independent, (2), and his Republican friends imagine they have got this Appellate district in a pocket, they are apt to wake up before the campaign is over and find they are mistaken.

SAYS an exchange: "A single child sent to school before recovery from scarlet fever caused 150 other cases. A word to the wise is sufficient. No child from homes where contagious diseases are prevailing should be allowed in the schools."

The "gallinipper" is one of the most pestiferous of insects, and is never at rest except when it is sucking blood from its victims. The late General John A. Logan selected an appropriate name for the protectionists and their pets, the "infant industries."

THE BULLETIN'S "supremely silly twaddle" about Judge Holt knocked him off his independent pedestal in short order. He tumbled right away, and brought the pedestal down with him. It was very amusing, vastly more so than "the BULLETIN's twaddle."

ONLY four years ago, Kansas was the banner Republican State in the Union. How is it, now? Well, Governor Humphrey, a Republican himself, says that if Harrison expects to carry that State his workers will have to be given generously from the campaign fund, and that even then the workers will have to hustle.

The "American Campaign Liar" which is but another and more appropriate name for the American Economist, in its list of wage advances a few days ago stated that B. Howitzer, of Chaseburg, Wis., had increased the pay of his employees 10 per cent. Congressman John Dewitt Warner investigated and found that no Howitzer was living there. Chaseburg has about fifty inhabitants.

Mrs. McCord of the Revisory Commission has prepared and submitted another Revenue and Taxation bill to the Legislature. Now what's the matter with the vetoed bill? It has been thoroughly discussed and gone over. The Governor's objections to it were mainly that it failed to receive the necessary majority on its final passage. Let the bill be reintroduced and passed, and that will settle the matter and save much time and expense.

THE Jackson Hinstler pays the following compliment to Hon. J. H. Hazelrigg, the Democratic nominee for Appellate Judge: "He is one of the bravest men in the district and will make a Judge of whom the whole State will be proud. He is regarded by those who know him best as being possessed of a legal mind capable of grappling with any question of law. His great popularity in the mountains will make him a strong candidate in this section."

Says the Louisville Times: "Use lots of hot water, inside and outside, is the prevailing prescription, both in Europe and America, when cholera comes around. Some doctors add salt and others camomile. If this doesn't pull you through, says Bismarck's physician in the ordinary, then put yourself in the hands of God, for those are the only remedies known to be efficacious." If that's the best Bismarck's physician can do, he ought to quit practicing medicine.

JUDGE Holt started out in the present race with the avowed intention of not accepting nomination from any political party. He is now an avowed candidate for the Republican nomination, although he seems to have slighted some of the Republican papers in making his announcement. The new election law has compelled him to abandon his great "independent" bamboozling act. His conduct is calculated to disgust men who believe in showing your true colors without being driven to do so, no matter what they are.

"We want reduction of tariff. We are taxed on every interest; blood is not only extracted from the larger veins of the body politic, but it is bound hand and foot and covered all over with gallinippers who are allowed to suck blood from every vein."

This sounds like the talk of a rabid free-trader, but it was uttered by the late General John A. Logan, one of the most distinguished Republicans of the country. The gallinippers are still sucking blood from every vein, and they are protected by the Republican party.

THE GERMANS WITH US.

"Within a few days Carl Schurz will receive an invitation to speak in Chicago in behalf of the Democratic national ticket," says the New York World. "The invitation will come from the Central German-American Democratic organization of Chicago. The campaign in the Western metropolis, and in fact throughout Illinois, takes on a new interest this year from the fact that a large majority of the German-American voters are for the first time in a Presidential year on the Democratic side of the fence. Of eighty-five German papers in the State seventy-eight are supporting Cleveland and Stevenson, and German Democratic campaign clubs were never half as numerous and aggressive as now."

The simple fact that the P. M. editor of the P. L. is a great admirer of B. H. will win lots of votes for the G. O. P. in Mason in November. You just wait until the ballots are counted, and see. The boys will all fall in line behind the P. M., they will, and—well, the new Election law won't allow any one but the clerk to mark a ballot, but the boys will all vote for Bumby, of course.

"INFAMOUS gerrymander" is a hard dose for Republicans to swallow, but the Democrats like to make Republicans take some of their own nasty medicine occasionally. The dose seems to have made the P. M. editor of the P. L. sick.

A Mine Under the Sea.

There are in England several coal and metalliferous mines which extend and are worked at a considerable distance out to sea. But perhaps the most remarkable submarine coal mine is that at Nanaimo, on Departure bay, beyond Victoria, B. C. This mine is known as the Wellington, and its galleries are situated 600 feet below the surface of the ocean, which here incloses an archipelago of islands very similar to the Thousand islands at the head of the St. Lawrence river. The galleries of this pit, which are continually developing, extend at present a length of six miles under the bottom of the waters of the Pacific ocean.

Nearly the whole population of the town of Nanaimo, amounting to nearly 1,000, is engaged in the mines of the place, the average daily wages per head being from twelve to twenty-three shillings. Liberal as this payment appears to be the cost of living in that inhospitable region is so high that the miners can after all only just make both ends meet.—Iron.

Natural Sand Blasts.

The idea of cutting designs on glass by forcing sand against the surface of plates and vessels of that material was first suggested by one of nature's freaks, just as hundreds of other inventions have been. An observing young man who was summering on the coast of New England noticed that the windstorms in that section frequently gathered up large loads of sand and hurled it with much force against exposed window panes, and that these within very short time were worn through and had to be replaced. In places where they were protected by leaves, vines, mosquito netting, etc., the glistening surface was left intact. He set about utilizing old nature's hint at once, the result being a machine which does work that cannot even be imitated in any other way.—St. Louis Republic.

Mixed at the Font.

One of the queerest incidents that ever befell a Catholic priest in the performance of his duties occurred at the old cathedral more than a week ago and was witnessed by a large crowd who were viewing the decorations. The baptismal ceremony was being performed at the font and the recipients of the sacrament were a pair of lusty lunged twins. One of the youngsters had come into the world weakly and was baptized instantly by an attendant.

The priest got wind of the matter, and when the time came for performing the ceremony asked the godmother which was the regenerated babe. Consternation reigned supreme. The twins had got hopelessly mixed, as usual, and the similarity of appearance rendered identification impossible. The nurse was called in and eyed the babies for birthmarks, but gave it up in despair. The priest ended the dilemma by giving both the youngsters conditional baptism and the family went home satisfied.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Sank in a Quicksand.

A French coastguardsman named Mainville met his death in a remarkable manner on the Mediterranean coast, near the mouth of Ande. He was going his rounds with a comrade when the latter, who was a few steps behind, saw Mainville sink suddenly into some quicksands. He went down so rapidly that he was unable to seize a stick held out to him, and in a few minutes had disappeared completely from sight.

The other man ran for assistance, but it was found impossible to find even the man's body, as the sea, which was very rough, was throwing up sand in large quantities on the spot.—St. James' Gazette.

The poor they have not with them.

At the union religious meeting at Vanlue Thanksgiving day a collection was taken for the relief of the poor and needy. This money was placed in the hands of a committee of ladies, and now they come forward and report that they can find neither poor nor needy in the village or vicinity, and don't know what to do with the funds.—Cor. PAYNTER.

Ninth District Democrats Re-nominate Him By Acclamation.

Proceedings of the Convention at Carlisle Tuesday—Resolutions and Other Matters.

Hon. Thomas H. Paynter, of Greenup, is the Democratic nominee for Congress.

His selection as the standard-bearer was made by acclamation yesterday. He has been a faithful, efficient, honest and conscientious Representative in the National House, and has been an honor to the people and the party who sent him there.

All this is generally admitted, and the sentiment was so overwhelming in his favor that he had no opposition for the nomination. The district convention at Carlisle Tuesday gave expression to the voice of the party.

In the absence of Charles B. Poyntz, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the district, the convention was called to order by G. R. Kellar, member of the State Central Committee. A temporary organization was at once effected by the unanimous election of Judge Laban T. Moore, of Cattlettsburg, for Chairman, and G. R. Kellar, of Carlisle, for Secretary. On motion, the temporary organization was made the permanent.

A call of the counties was had, and the following committees were appointed:

Lawrence, Robertson and Rowan were not represented. A recess was taken until 1:30 p. m. to give committees time to report.

On reassembling in the afternoon the committees presented their reports, which were unanimously adopted. The resolutions were as follows:

Resolved, That the Democrats of the Ninth Congressional district in convention assembled approve the call of this convention.

That we approve and endorse the National platform adopted by the convention in the city of Chicago on the 21st day of June, 1892, and the candidacy of Grover Cleveland and Adlai Stevenson for President and Vice President.

That we heartily endorse the course of Hon. T. H. Paynter in the Fifty-first and Fifty-second Congress.

That it is earnestly recommended that the several Democratic county committees take immediate steps to thoroughly organize their respective counties, in order to bring out a full Democratic vote for all Democratic nominees to be voted for at the next November election.

Nominations were declared in order and B. E. Roe, of Greenup, presented the name of Hon. Thomas H. Paynter in a few well chosen remarks. R. B. Lovel, of Maysville, moved to make the nomination by acclamation, which motion was numerously seconded and was adopted unanimously.

The Chair appointed Messrs. R. B. Lovel, J. P. Harbeson and J. T. Simon a committee to acquaint the nominee of the action of this convention. This was done and Mr. Paynter appeared and accepted the nomination, thanking the convention first for the honor the party had again conferred upon him.

A motion was adopted asking the Democratic papers of the district to publish the proceedings of the convention.

On motion the thanks of the convention were returned to the citizens of Carlisle and Nicholas County for the kindness and generous hospitality shown the visiting delegates.

The convention then adjourned sine die.

DOUBLE EXECUTION.

Two Murderers to Be Hanged in the Ohio Penitentiary Friday.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 7.—Attorney General Richards has received information by wire that Judge Jackson, of the United States circuit court, has refused to interfere in the Craig case. No particulars have been received, but General Richards believed that when Judge Jackson learned that the state supreme court had passed upon the question of the constitutionality of the law which permitted accused men to waive trial by jury and enter general plea of guilty, leaving it to the court to fix the grade of crime after hearing testimony, he would refuse to interfere.

All signs now point to a double execution on next Friday morning. Both Craig and McCarthy hoped to save their lives, and are terribly wrought up in contemplation of the awful events of the night that is so near. The mother and sisters of Craig are here, hoping against hope, and the faithful brother of McCarthy will not desert him. If men whose hearts are full of murderous intent could but know the awful emotions of the men who are doomed to be strangled to death next Friday morning they would sooner turn their hands against themselves than to assume the least hazard of taking their places in the gruesome annex.

William Gaffney, of Cleveland, has written Sheriff James Ross offering his services in the execution of Craig and McCarthy, thinking the sheriff has that duty to perform. He offers to hang the men for $30 each and says he is experienced, and drinks no intoxicating liquors.

Fight on a Train.

SPENCER, Ind., Sept. 7.—The particulars of the fight on the Indianapolis and Vincennes train Monday afternoon are now obtainable. Lou Britton, an Indianapolis woman, accompanied by a man from the same city, came here and deposited bail for the release of Flora Hancock from jail. Then they started on the return, but were noisy and turbulent. Brakeman Harry Joslin intercepted the man as he was making his way into the ladies' coach, smoking a cigar, and there was a struggle, in which the Indianapolis was forced back into the smoker. The women came to the rescue, and Joslin was compelled to knock all of them down. Then the man attempted to use a revolver, but the passengers interfered and finished the fight. The trio were transferred to the care of an officer at Gosport.

Maniac for One Week.

RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 7.—Hiram Smoker, one of the most prominent and highly esteemed farmers of Wayne county, suddenly became a raving maniac one week ago. He was very violent, driving his wife from home and assaulting the neighbors, who attempted to quiet him. Mr. Smoker was brought to this city and placed in jail, but he continued to rave incessantly, and would neither eat nor sleep. Last Thursday he was removed to the Eastern Indiana hospital for the insane, but his violence continued, as well as his abstinence from all nourishment. His physical system broke down under the strain and Sunday night he died. It is said that his insanity is hereditary. Prior to his sudden attack, however, he had never given the slightest evidence of mental derangement.

A STOCK BREEDER TORN to Shreds.

OMAHA, Sept. 7.—B. M. Rix, one of the best known live stock breeders in the state, was torn to pieces by a bull on his farm near Omaha yesterday. The corpse was literally torn to pieces and could only be identified by the fragments of clothing scattered around the scene of the struggle. The feet of the bull were covered with blood from having jumped on the victim, and its long horns were smeared with shreds of flesh and blood. Every bone was crushed and in some instances detached from the body. The terrible affair was discovered by the victim's aged wife.

Ready for the Rescuers.

ASHLAND, Ky., Sept. 7.—The outlaw friends of Howard Little, who is confined in the Pike county jail for the recent brutal murder of Jacob Kinney, have for some time threatened a rescue, and it is now generally reported that they are organizing for the attempt. The jail is being guarded day and night by the county officers. Stationed on the roads entering Pikeville are guards, and an instant alarm will be sounded upon their approach.

Ohio Crops.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 7.—The weekly crop bulletin for Ohio says: Weather was dry and cool from Tuesday, on which day light showers occurred generally. Light frost was reported from some localities, but no damage done. Ground is getting very dry and plowing is being retarded. Corn is maturing and is being cut in some counties. The drought has been injurious to the corn and pastures are very short and are also being damaged by grasshoppers. Some tobacco has been cut and housed in good condition. Rain and warmth are needed badly.

Stevenson in Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 7.—Vice Presidential Candidate Stevenson will arrive in Indianapolis by the Peoria division of the Big Four this afternoon at 3 o'clock. A delegation from the Hendricks club will meet Mr. Stevenson at the Union station and escort him to his hotel. At 7 o'clock the various Democratic clubs will meet at their headquarters preparatory to forming an escort to Tomlinson hall, where the speaking will take place. After Mr. Stevenson's speech there will be an address by A. J. Hunter, of Illinois.

A Hunter's Misfortune.

ENGLISH, Ind., Sept. 7.—Ivy Dooley, merchant, while out hunting, was wounded in his right thigh from the discharge of a double-barreled shotgun, tearing away the fleshy part of the thigh. The gun was charged with buck shot and was setting against a tree when a companion knocked it down and it exploded. Drs. Cole, Hammond and McMahon are in attendance. They pronounce it the worst flesh wound of their experience, but hope to save the limb.
